Southern Build 08

Firstly we would like to thank all that visited our stand at the Southern Build 2008 Building Expo held at the Westpac Trust Centre in Christchurch over the 13th and 14th of August period.

As we were one of the largest Exhibition, our stand was situated outside, which made setup on the Tuesday fun because this fell over that period when Canterbury received all that rain. Luckily the days of the show were sunny.

Polls taken show that 92% of all visitors travelled from all over the South Island and rated the show good or very good. As general numbers were lower than expected. We had a lot of interest in the items erected on site and also on display.

Once again thank you to the customers that purchased something new plus those adding to their existing plant. As well as those that made the effort to call in for a chat.

A thank you also goes out to the staff of NZSSL Christchurch shown attending the expo for all their support over the current and previous years.

John Wielsma
Southern Sales Manager.

Safety

Your safety is our primary concern so please read the following tips when using your scaffolding:

- Remember to BE AWARE a fall from any height can cause serious injury.
- Avoid using the scaffold in adverse WEATHER conditions as the tube and decking will become slippery if wet or icy.
- LIFT ONLY TO YOUR CAPABILITY
- Ensure your scaffold is SECURED properly before use.
- Watch when erecting scaffolding for OVERHEAD hazards (Phone Lines and Power Lines, falling materials etc.)
- Always use properly SECURED AND FITTED ladders and/or stairs to access all scaffolding
- Always VISUALLY CHECK the scaffold is free from damage before and during use.
- If unsure SEEK ADVICE from a certified scaffolder or DoL (Department of Labour).

Wellington Branch

Hi to my North Island Central Clients

The year started well but as you all know things have slowed down in the last couple of months. This is a good time to look at your scaffolding cost over the last nine months and comparing that with owning your own. The advantages are, you can use your scaffold as needed, move it yourself and charge it out in the cost of the job.

You can build to a five meter working platform without a ticket.

Tai Poutini Polytechnic in Petone runs a two days course for builders giving them an understanding of all the rules etc for $100, If the course test is passed a certificate is given stating you are capable of erecting a none notifiable scaffold to five meters. Not a bad deal. Kelvin Pou is the man to ring he is a great guy with a very good teaching method, 0272225615.

The Taranaki region is going well and that is attributed to all that money coming from the cow cockies wanting new homes and work being generated by the oil industry.

Customer profile

Rick Fincham has been a builder for over 30 years and is the Project Manager for Sun Sky Limited building new houses in the Johnsonville suburb of Wellington.

His passion is shooting and he is a member of the New Zealand Rifle Team. He shoots targets at long range up to a kilometre away. Ricks home range is at Trentham in Upper Hutt and he competes for the Ballinger Belt, which is the oldest sporting trophy in New Zealand. His current goal is to win gold at the next Commonwealth Games in India 2010.

Rick say's "His rifle shooting and building are very complementary. You can't bring bullets back so you have to get it right the first time. The best way to build as well really."

Favorite Music	Queen
Favorite Sport	Rifle shooting
Favorite Car	Subaru
Favorite Drink	Tui
Favorite Team	Lions/Hurricanes
Favorite Country	England
Favorite Radio	Classic Hits
Ambition in Life	Do it once do it right.

To all builders:

Rick has to pay his own way to Australia competition and India competition, In order for him to qualify in the next Commonwealth Games.

If any of you guys would like to sponsor Rick to help him with his qualification stage will be much appreciated.
